

ALEXANDER : SEDGLEY ANNOUNCEMENT

On behalf of the team at Alexander Sedgley, I am excited to be able to announce that we will be joining forces with Cowan Architects of East Grinstead and London Bridge from the 25th March 2019.

As two established architectural practices that share common market sector interests and values, this move will help build and expand our current portfolios. Our creativity, innovation and expertise will also be strengthened across the sectors of healthcare, residential, education, commercial, sports & leisure and residential care where we will be able to further enhance the services we already offer our clients.

Our knowledge and expertise in challenging inner city planning and developments, urban regeneration and a wider geographical reach within the UK are skills that will complement the growing work that Cowan Architects has undertaken in mixed-use master planning and site capacity studies.

Cowan Architects already has proven capabilities across a number of sectors and it makes perfect sense for us to combine forces and enjoy the rewards that a stronger skill set and wider opportunities will offer our clients. The integration of two practices with our pedigree is perfect timing. We have created some hugely beneficial opportunities by bringing both teams together and it will be an exciting prospect and a positive move forward into the future.

There will be a few changes that you will see but these will not disrupt the service you enjoy from us but rather enhance it. For example, we will not be renewing the lease on our Greenwich office when it expires later this month but re-locating to the Cowan offices in East Grinstead and their new premises in London.

We will be coming into the Cowan Architects stable so our name will change in due course and obviously our financial arrangements will come under the one roof as well. All these administrative details will be handled as seamlessly as we will enjoy the additional support of the Cowan Architects' team.

Our mobile numbers will remain the same and our clients, consultants and contractors will all be advised of our new contact details prior to the merger.
